

soylent

2019 HUNGER & HEALTH FELLOWS

Thanks to Soylent, we were able to give 15 of Wisconsin's brightest college and graduate students a full scholarship to attend our 2019 Hunger and Health Summit! We were so inspired by all of the incredible college and grad students who applied. It was an incredibly competitive process.

We join Soylent and many of the long-term hunger fighters, health promoters, and community builders at our conference to welcome the next generation of hunger fighters, health promoters, and community builders in our inaugural cohort of Hunger and Health Fellows!

- Jade Cone, University of Wisconsin - Superior, Social Work
- Alicia Cran, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Microbiology & Public Health
- Cortney Dunklin, University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, Urban Studies
- Alyssa Fleischman, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Genetics & Neurobiology
- Danielle Hurlbutt, Colorado State University, Education
- Victoria Kildow, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Biology & Public Health
- Rissa Lane, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Population Health Sciences
- Shyanne Lessor, University of Wisconsin - Eau Claire, Social Work
- Sophia Ly, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Human Development and Family Studies
- Fiona Montie, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Community & Environmental Sociology, Minor in Global Health; Masters in Public Affairs, Graduate Minor in Business, Environment & Social Responsibility
- Shayna Moss, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Horticulture & Sustainable Agriculture
- Brittany Redden, University Wisconsin - Whitewater, Social Work & Psychology
- Jalin Roberson, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Biology/Medical Doctorate
- Renee Scampini, University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, Urban Studies Graduate Program
- Kayla Van Boxtel, University of Wisconsin - Madison, Community & Nonprofit Leadership, Pre-Nursing emphasis